

From: Karina at Save the Sound [kkrul@savethesound.org]
Sent: 7/19/2021 11:47:16 PM
To: Williamson, Anahita [Williamson.Anahita@epa.gov]
Subject: Environmental news YOU need to know

Beat the heat with some easy reading! While you're staying cool this summer, read about the environmental battles happening in your own backyard.

Summer is always one of our busiest seasons at Save the Sound. From monitoring for sewage spills on Long Island Sound to protecting our communities from extreme storms and weather patterns brought on by climate change—our work never stops!

Want local environmental news delivered straight to your doorstep? Click here to become a member and you'll receive the Fall newsletter, and all future newsletters, in print.

Click here to read SoundBites online.

This summer's highlights:

New Faces at Save the Sound

It takes a village to protect our region from the environmental threats it faces. That's why we're growing our staff—so we can tackle new challenges and create a healthy environment for generations to come. Meet the new faces fighting for your environment.

Protecting Lands Throughout Our Region

Our precious open spaces provided us with a peaceful refuge during tough times over the last year, now they need our help to protect them. Get updates on our three biggest ongoing lands battles: Plum Island (NY), Six Lakes (CT), and Oswegatchie Hills (CT).

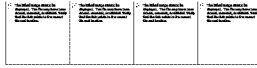

Breaking Down the 2021 Legislative Session

The most unusual state legislative sessions in memory have also proven the most momentous for Connecticut's and New York's environment. Read about the victories and disappointments from the 2021 session.

Curt's Corner: Decade on Ecological Restoration

Save the Sound President Curt Johnson has some food for thought about the United Nations Decade on Ecological Restoration, how we fit into it, and what it means for your local land and habitats. Get insight into this new decade of hope and what it means for the spaces you care about.

Thank you for being a supporter!

www.savethesound.org

900 Chapel Street, Upper Mezzanine, New Haven, CT 06510

545 Tompkins Ave, 3rd Floor, Mamaroneck, NY 10543

unsubscribe

